Re: United States v. Tsastsin
Case No. S1 11-cr-878
Motion for Accounting (Docket #193)

Dear Judge Kaplan:

This letter is in regards to the Motion for Accounting [DI 193].

The Court may recall this Motion originally submitted to the Court Clerk back on February 6, 2019 in the same envelope as my Reply for my §2255 motion [DI 188]. Ultimately, it was filed on the docket on March 27, 2019 [DI 193]. By letter dated April 22, 2019, I informally replied to the Government's letter responding to my Motion for Accounting [DI 196]. In this letter, and because of the initial misunderstanding regarding the filing of the Motion, I tried to emphasize to Magistrate Judge Gorenstein that my request for an accounting was by no means tied to the §2255 motion, and therefore I did not believe I should have to wait for him to issue his Report and Recommendation on the §2255 motion in order for him to rule on the Motion for Accounting.

Nevertheless, while Magistrate Judge Gorenstein issued his Report and Recommendation on September 10, 2019 to date there has been no ruling on the Motion for Accounting. Accordingly, I respectfully remind the Court that Motion remains outstanding.

Please know that I do not send this letter to suggest that my case is any more important than any of the many other cases on the Court's overloaded docket. It is just that as my sentence comes to an end, my deportation looms and I am simply trying to resolve this matter while I am still in this country.

Thank you for your consideration of my matter.

Respectfully
